TAXES COLLECTED IN LOGAN COUNTY.
—Ever since the overthrow of the rebellion and the consequent return of rebel soldiers to their homes in Logan, until recently, there has been more or less of difficulty and disturbance in that county. This state of affairs culminated some time since in the open and positive refusal of the rebellion soldiers to pay the taxes levied by the State of West Virginia. It was necessary to assert the authority of the State, and an act was passed to that effect. Immediately sent a company of two United States soldiers into the disaffected district. Since then the taxes for 1866 have been paid, and things work smoothly.
A company of soldiers is more compelling than Jupiter.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning, about ten o'clock, a German named Charles Luke, employed by a Mr. Fabbe, gardener on the Island, was driving a wagon loaded with manure up Market street. When near the Market and Main street, he observed that his pitchfork was about to fall on the hind wheel of the wagon.
Stopping his horses and reaching back to secure it, the box on which he was sitting tilted, and he fell to the ground, alighting on his head. He instantly ceased to move, and was carried to the sidewalk by some parties who beheld the accident, but in a few minutes afterwards he was pronounced dead. Dr.
Hupp, who was sent for, examined the body and pronounced the neck broken.

DAVIS' CELEBRATED PANORAMA OF THE REBELLION.—Last evening, Washington Hall was crowded with people to witness the first exhibition in this city, of Davis' Celebrated Panorama of the Rebellion. If any one wishes to know how battles by land and by sea are conducted, let him see Davis' truthful representations. They are life-like, and never fail to give the spectator a sensation in the most peaceful breast. Old soldiers beholding their "right battles" of the "right wars," will find it a most interesting and profitable sight. And you will also have the satisfaction of knowing that you have contributed to the comfort of the "Soldiers' Orphan's Home."

THE PARDON OF SEABRIGHT.—Sometime last year, Lewis Seabright, a man arrested for selling diseased meat in the Wheeling Market. The Justice who made the preliminary examination in the case, sent him forward to the Circuit Court of Ohio county.
At the March term of said Court following, the Grand Jury found a true bill against him. He was then tried, found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and to be imprisoned in the county jail for thirty days. Judge Caldwell might have made the imprisonment for one or two months satisfied the requirements of the law.
He chose, however, to make it thirty days. Seabright, who had been in the County Jail for thirty days, was released, on condition that he should pay, by the first day of October next, the amount of his fine with interest on the amount. But when the day came, he did not appear, and the court, finding the condition not complied with, the pardon was of no effect.

Following is a copy of the letter of Judge Caldwell to Gov. Arthur Bore-man:
SIR:—I understand that Lewis Seabright, who was convicted for selling diseased meat in Ohio county, West Virginia, and has been sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and to be imprisoned in the county jail for thirty days, has applied for a pardon. I so recommended to you, that you grant him a pardon so far as to pardon him from the imprisonment, or grant a pardon on the condition that he pay the fine and costs.

WORKING MEN'S MEETING.

Call for Mass Meeting to Nominat.

Ticket.

A meeting of from seventy-five to one hundred working men was held last evening at American Hall, Centre Wheeling. Franklin Cline, Esq., called to the chair. He explained the object of the meeting, and the object of the working classes. The object was to combine the working men of Wheeling and vicinity in support of candidates for the Legislature at the coming election from their own ranks —men who would legislate for their interests instead of the interests of the aristocrats and capitalists of the country.
It was for the purpose of saying whether they would be ruled by say men who hold the office of the Court, and the working men's nose on the grindstone.

Mr. Cline then introduced Mr. M. J.
Smith, as President of the "Working Men's Association." Mr. Smith said he had been elected to the position of President of the "Working Men's Association," and he would stand hereafter among his fellow-workmen.
He knew the opposition to the disfranchisement of the colored people.
The movement would nominate men to work themselves and the colored people down to-night [Democratic meeting at the Court House] was got up on purpose to circumvent the movement. He said he started it as a "Young Men's Democratic Association," and he said it was now the "Working Men's Association." He believed most of those here knew what was for.

It only remained for them now to elect the members of the Court. He said the men of the North to the Gulf of Mexico, and anything else that had a tendency to divide the people.
They had started it in Pittsburgh and here it was already.
It was also raised in Chicago.
This movement was to carry this city would be certain to carry their candidates. He thought they might elect any body they might nominate.
If they would lay aside politics.
The question was would they do it?
Then when it was spread from the North to the South, it was spread from the South to the North, and it was spread from the North to the South, and it was spread from the South to the North.

Mr. Smith proceeded to illustrate how the working men here and in other places were being deceived by the capitalists to elect the law-makers in their own interests. They even elected the working men the right to form a union, and they were not allowed the right to do so. He said the terms on which they would labor. He looked upon labor as a right, and he said it was a right to be sold. The capitalist owned his capital, and they owned the labor and the laborer had a right to be sold. He said the law was to think of the laboring classes of the United States working themselves out of the country. He said the law was to think of the laboring classes of the United States working themselves out
of the country.

Sprout was shot to death. The murder was committed by four men, who were
